Brief Note:

Oral History is a method of gathering, preserving and interpreting historical information through recorded interviews with people, communities and participants in past events and ways of life. Oral History is therefore both a research technique and a method of preserving history. It provides one way to uncover the kind of history that often goes unwritten. The first use of oral history was in fact done by early Greek historians Herodotus & Thucydides in about 5th C BC through eye-witness accounts. The modern concept of oral history developed in 1940s by Allan Nevins and his associates at Columbia University. Oral history eventually became an international movement in historical research in the 1960s - early 70s. In Northeast India, there is an immense potential and source to explore the culture and traditions through myths, legends, proverbs, folksongs and dances and others to tap Oral traditions and therein add on to the humongous façade of Oral History. Many academic institutions are in fact incorporating Oral History as a relevant subject and its multidisciplinary approach is yielding high returns.

Objectives of the Webinar:

- To highlight on the theoretical aspect of Oral History and methodologies in historical research

HOD,
Department of History
Morigaon College
Date

- To throw light on the untapped potential of Oral History sources in North East India

Report:

The Department of History, Morigaon College, Assam, had organised a one-day national webinar on 14 July, 2021, on the topic, "Oral History: Prospects and Perspectives in Northeast India". The Webinar was organised by the Department in collaboration with its Alumni Association. It was scheduled to be conducted via Google Meet (the link of which has been mentioned above) at 4 pm IST. The Department of History's Facebook page recorded the live session of the lecture which was later shared on the timeline of the page.

The Resource Person for the event was Dr. Biman Hazarika. He is the Principal of Dhing College, Assam. Dr. Hazarika began his lecture with a theoretical background of the theme and then proceeded to discuss about the various aspects through which local history can be written down using Oral History methodologies; extending his speech to discuss about the Sattria Institutions of Assam as prominent sources of Oral History and how all the states of Northeast have an unexplored potential to promote their Oral Traditions. Dr. Hazarika quite succinctly amalgamated his area of research on the Narowa Group of Sattria institution of Assam as an addendum to the discussion.

The Inaugural speech of the webinar was delivered by Dr. Lila Kanta Barthakur, Principal, Morigaon College, Professor Jogen Kalita, Governing Body President of Morigaon College and HoD of Department of Zoology, Gauhati University had also actively participated in the deliberations by expressing his ideas about carrying forward research activities in history.

The Coordinator for the event was Mr. Deepak Kalita, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Morigaon College and the webinar was moderated by Suman Das, Assistant Professor Department of History, Morigaon College. The introduction to the Resource Person speech was delivered by Raj Ballav Nath, Faculty Member, Department of History, Morigaon College and Asst. coordinator of the Webinar. The Department was in constant connection with the Alumni association and the Alumni members have been very supportive for successfully organising the event. The Vote of Thanks at the completion of the webinar was delivered by Joonmoni Deka, member of the Alumni Association. The
