Topic: IPR Strategies for Innovation and Entrepreneurship: protecting your creativity (IPR)

Resource person: NilimaThakuria

Date: 05/10/2018

A workshop on the topic “IPR Strategies for Innovation and Entrepreneurship: protecting your creativity” was organized in the Department of Zoology, Morigaon College on 5th October, 2018. Dr. Nilima Thakuria, Asst. Prof, Department of Philosophy, Rangsin College, was present as the resource person. In the realm of innovation and entrepreneurship, understanding Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) strategies is paramount for graduating students poised to enter the competitive landscape. This report sheds light on the significance of IPR as a strategic tool for safeguarding innovations, inventions, and creative endeavors. By exploring various forms of intellectual property such as patents, trademarks, and copyrights, students gain insights into how these legal frameworks can be leveraged to protect and capitalize on novel ideas. Additionally, the report delves into the role of IPR in fostering a conducive environment for entrepreneurship, encouraging students to consider IPR as an integral component of their business strategies. From securing a competitive edge to attracting investors, the adoption of effective IPR strategies emerges as a cornerstone for success in the dynamic landscape of innovation and entrepreneurship. Armed with this knowledge, graduating students are better equipped to navigate the intricacies of intellectual property, fostering a culture of innovation and sustainable business practices in their future endeavors.
